The 10th Anniversary of Orange Ribbon TASUKI Relay

October 30th, 2016 was a big day. The Orange Ribbon TASUKI Relay started in 2007 to raise awareness of child abuse and neglect prevention, and this year was the 10th anniversary! In this past 10 years, the Orange Ribbon TASUKI Relay became one of the main activities of Child Abuse and Prevention Campaign in Tokyo-Kanagawa area. Stage events, activity booths, and even courses are growing every year.

This year, total of 616 peoples ran from Shibuya, Kawasaki, Shonan, Kamakura, and Miura towards Yamashita Park wearing the white t-shirt and orange tasuki. The staffs handed out campaign goods at major relay points.

The goal Yamashita Park was full of children's smile and laughter. The music lives, kids' dance, and pantomime shows on stage were great, and a lot of people showed interest towards child abuse and neglect prevention. Please join us with your family again!!

The Orange Ribbon TASUKI Relay Network (<http://www.orange-tasuki.org>) was launched this year. You can check announcements and reports of TASUKI Relays held at 13 places throughout Japan.
